Deborah Silver is a Certified Public Accountant in Twin Falls. She has been working with individuals and small businesses for over 35 years and understands how the tax policies of Idaho impact Idaho families. Her experience with finances and budgets are skills needed in our state government

Deborah and her husband, LeRoy Hayes raised their children in the Twin Falls school district and all of her family graduated from Idaho colleges. She is the founder of Magic Valley Refugee Advocates, has served as a Twin Falls Public Library trustee, and as elder and Sunday School teacher at the First Presbyterian Church. She was an early supporter and liaison between the First Presbyterian Church and the Magic Valley High School.

- Wise stewardship of Idaho's tax revenues is her highest priority.
- Smart, conservative, investment in Idaho's public education system is necessary to help our children compete.
- Access to public lands is part of her Idaho heritage, and high priority to Idaho citizens. We must work to protect public lands.
- Seventy eight thousand working Idahoans are being deprived of health insurance options that are available in most other states. Covering health insurance has been proven to save lives and state tax dollars. I will join legislators who support covering the gap.
