Vote: When I chose to run for office, my ideals most nearly matched those of the Republican Party and that is why I chose to run as a Republican. However, I took an oath as an Idaho state senator to serve the people of Idaho. I take that responsibility very seriously and I take every vote in that same vein. Each time I am called upon to make a decision, I consider my own values, the ideals of the Republican Party, the opinions of the people of Lewis and Nez Perce counties which make up my legislative district and, ultimately, the Idaho Constitution. My top priorities for the next legislative session are funding education and helping families, reforming tax policy and sustaining our economies, and reinvesting in our judicial systems and building our communities.
